

New Study Reveals the Best Time to Buy Disney Vacation Club Resale

ORLANDO, FL (December 18, 2014) – Fidelity Real Estate Agency, a full-service Florida licensed real estate broker specializing in assisting buyers and sellers with timeshare resales, recently conducted an in-depth analysis of Disney Vacation Club (DVC) resale transactions to identify market trends and reveal the most beneficial time of year to shop DVC resales. The results of the study were published on <http://blog.fidelityresales.com> and indicated that the early months of the year are typically the most cost-effective for making a DVC resale purchase.

The study analyzed data drawn from more than 3,000 Disney Vacation Club resale transactions that took place between 2010 and 2013, and examined factors such as the time of year when DVC resale prices are lowest, the events that might influence resale prices, which resorts are most popular, and when particular resorts are most available. Data also revealed when prospective buyers are most likely to find large point packages (200+ points), or small point packages. The full results of the study are available at <http://blog.fidelityresales.com/when-is-the-best-time-to-buy-dvc-resale>.

“The Disney Vacation Club resale market is constantly evolving and the information provided by this study will enable prospective DVC members to make better informed decisions when entering the resale arena,” said Debbie Ely, Vice President of Fidelity Real Estate Agency. “At Fidelity, we are adamant about providing such informative resources that empower consumers and allow us to demonstrate our unsurpassed knowledge of the DVC resale market.”

The study is part of a series of articles and videos produced by Fidelity Real Estate Agency to engage the Disney Vacation Club community through useful and insightful resources. Interested parties can learn more at <http://blog.fidelityresales.com>.
